

Curse @cursedsalad

30 Jan 19 · 25 tweets · cursedsalad/status/1090467763133374464

Tr

1. How many governments must the US topple before Americans realize that we are systematically dismantling Israel's enemies one by one? How long until Americans realize Washington and the West Bank are under occupation from the same people?

2. The Jewish fifth column is feeding the American public false narratives about Venezuela. This isn't about money or gold - Venezuela didn't attempt to repatriate their gold from London until Trump sanctioned it back in November.

3. Nor is this about oil - Venezuela has been producing oil for almost a century. Why wait until now to appropriate it?

4. Does anyone believe that the US is interested in Venezuelan oil or gold with renown neocon stalwarts Mike Pompeo, John Bolton, and Samantha Ravich at the helm of this latest coup attempt? This can only be about one thing: Israel.

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Trump names Jewish security expert to senior intelligence post

Appointment of Samantha Ravich comes after president taps Republican Jewish Coalition board member Jeffrey Gunter for envoy to Iceland

By JTA

23 Aug 2018, 12:18 am | 1

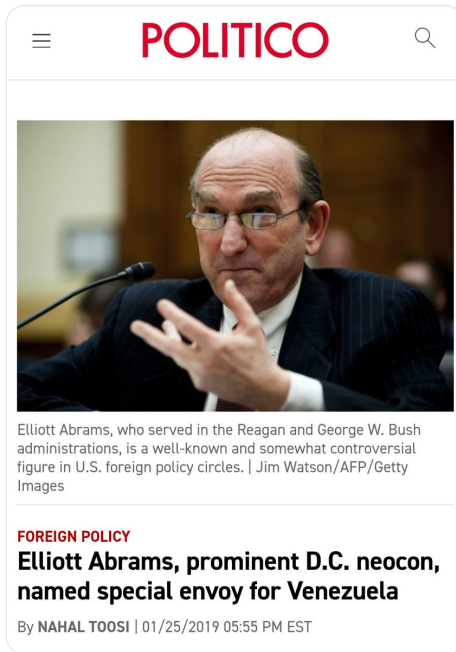

5. The appointment of Jewish neocon Elliott Abrams as envoy to Venezuela is the final piece of the puzzle. Why else would Abrams, a convicted criminal guilty of lying to Congress to hide his involvement in the Iran Contra scandal, be tapped to lead this coup if not for Israel?

The New York Times

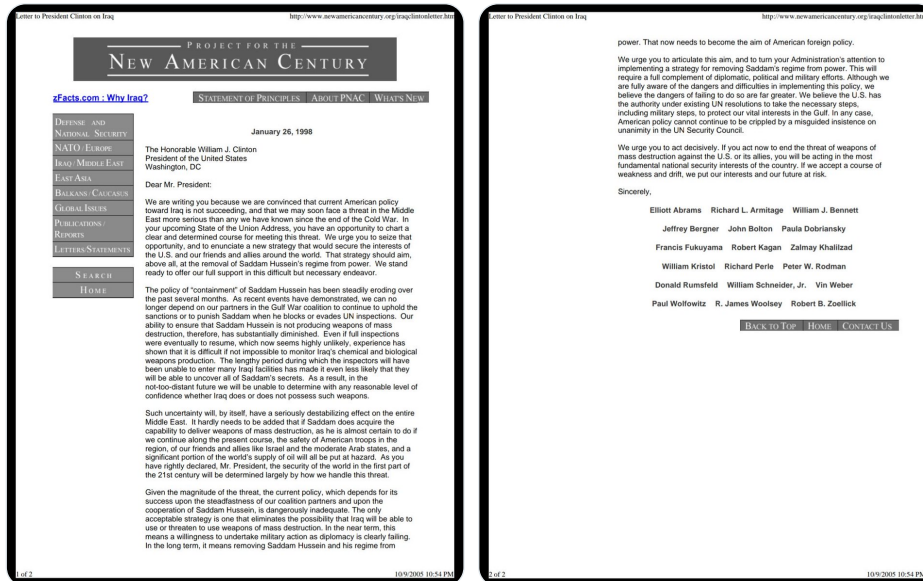

ARCHIVES | 1991

Elliott Abrams Admits His Guilt On 2 Counts in Contra Cover-Up

By DAVID JOHNSTON OCT. 8, 1991

6. This criminal neocon was also part of the pro-Israel think tank Project for the New American Century (PNAC) which included the architects of the Iraq War. In 1998, they urged Bill Clinton to remove Saddam Hussein, citing "weapons of mass destruction." Sound familiar?

7. Five years later, this same group of Jews would use 9/11 and lies about Saddam having weapons of mass destruction as a pretext for sending Americans to war with Iraq. Not a single Jew from PNAC or Israel helped fight. They succeeded in toppling Iraq with American blood.

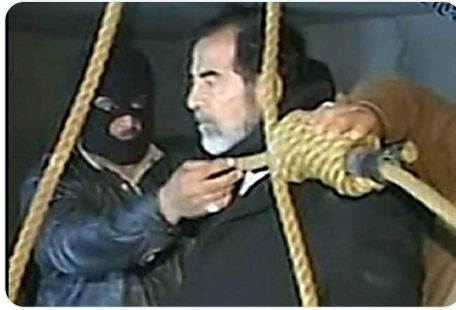

M SUBSCRIBE / REGISTER LOGIN

INDEPENDENT

News > World > Middle East

WMD just a convenient excuse for war, admits Wolfowitz

By David Usborne | Friday 30 May 2003 00:00 |

8. So now, this neocon all-star team lead by Jew Elliott Abrams, who ironically touts himself as some anti-Marxist wizard, is pushing the US towards another conflict against one of Israel's enemies: Venezuela.

Daily Mail .com News

'5,000 troops to Colombia': John Bolton's White House notes raise prospect of US military intervention in Venezuela crisis after Trump freezes Maduro's access to oil cash and declares 'all options are on the table'

By Afp
23:53 EST 28 Jan 2019, updated 01:08 EST 29 Jan 2019

9. This conflict started back in 2002 when the US supported a coup to oust DEMOCRATICALLY ELECTED President, Hugo Chávez. Per usual, "American" media said the US was restoring "democracy" despite the fact that Chávez was elected & regularly held referendums, some of which he lost

The New York Times

AMERICAS

Venezuela Hands Narrow Defeat to Chávez Plan

By SIMON ROMERO DEC. 3, 2007

Mr. Chávez today in Caracas with a copy of the constitution and his proposed changes. Francesco Spotorno/Reuters

10. Of course, Jewish think tanks back in the US were spinning the referendums as illegitimate and the Jewish fifth column in America was following suit.

COUNCIL on FOREIGN RELATIONS

Trending

Venezuela

INF Treaty

Brexit

Afghanistan

Referendum in Venezuela Hardens Chavez's 'Authoritarian Regime'

Allan Brewer-Carias, a former Venezuelan legislator and opponent of President Hugo Chavez, says the referendum that overturned term limits on Chavez will strengthen the country's authoritarian strain but also signaled disapproval of Chavez's government.

Interview by Allan Brewer Carias, Interviewee

Bernard Gwertzman, Interviewer

February 17, 2009

The Economist

Subscribe

Venezuela's term-limits referendum

Chávez for ever?

The president has won a referendum to abolish term limits. But the coming economic storm may make this a hollow victory

Print edition | The Americas

Feb 19th 2009 | caracas

11. Chávez wasn't Lenin - Venezuela's oil has been nationalized since the 70s. The real problem was he aligned himself with Gaddafi, Hussein, & Ahmadinejad - Israel's enemies. He also removed dissident oil executives and replaced them with people amenable to his socialist agenda.

A photograph showing Mahmoud Ahmadinejad on the left and Hugo Chavez on the right, both smiling and shaking hands. They are in a crowd, with other people visible in the background. Chavez is wearing a red shirt under a dark jacket, and Ahmadinejad is wearing a dark suit. The photo is part of a news article header from Haaretz.

Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, left, and Venezuela's Hugo Chavez shaking hands at the presidential palace in Caracas, Venezuela. Credit: AP

Chavez and Ahmadinejad: End of a Love Affair

The late Venezuelan President Chavez was Iran's go-between for Latin America, and probably the most open apologist for Hezbollah in the region. The symbiotic relationship between Chavez and Ahmadinejad was also grounded on their visceral anti-Semitism.

12. Incidentally, some of those anti-Chávez oil executives were Jewish, and many were suspected of being Zionists. Isaac Perez Recao was one such oil magnate, who publicly denied any affiliation with Israel. Jewish media broadcasted his lies, but to no effect. He fled to Miami.

Isaac Perez Recao Sends Message to the Venezuelan News Media.

Business & International Editors

MIAMI--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 15, 2002

Venezuelan businessman Isaac Perez Recao sent a message on video to the Venezuelan news media for the purpose of clarifying his involvement in the events of this past April 11th. A transcript of this video is provided below.

ISAAC PEREZ RECAO TO NATIONAL PUBLIC OPINION

Good evening, my name is Isaac Perez Recao. I would like to address Venezuelans for the purpose of telling the truth about my involvement in the recent events that are still shaking the country.

I am one of the 4 children of Isaac Perez Alfonzo, a well-known businessman and working man who gave his life for his family and country. From my father, we inherited the fundamental principles of honesty, integrity, love of work, dedication and commitment to Venezuela. My family's businesses are of a strictly private nature and are not in any way connected to the government. Our assets are in Venezuela and we continue defending them because this is the country where we were born, the one we are intimately tied up with, and just as it was the country my father wanted for me, it is the one I want for my children.

I have never represented the interests of Israeli defense companies, contrary to what has been falsely asserted. Proof of this is the fact that the Israeli Embassy in Venezuela itself officially discredited that allegation, and I have never sold weapons to the National Armed Forces.

The Miami Herald

Fri, Apr. 26, 2002

Venezuelans linked to coup attempt said to be in Miami

BY JUAN O. TAMAYO
jtamayo@herald.com

Two Venezuelan businessmen allegedly involved in a failed coup attempt against President Hugo Chávez have sought refuge in Miami because they fear retaliation, friends and business partners said.

Isaac Pérez Recao, 32, identified in Venezuelan media reports as a key financial and political backer of efforts to topple

Chávez and establish an interim government, is living in a condo in Key Biscayne, friends in South Florida said.

Venezuelan military investigators raided his Caracas home Wednesday and seized several guns and boxes of ammunition in a basement shooting range. It was not clear if the guns were illegal or part of a Pérez Recao-owned firm that sells Israeli weapons in Venezuela.

Roberto Carmona Borjas, 35, who helped draft

13. In 2002, it was reported by the Miami Herald and Venezuelan newspaper El Nuevo Pais that Isaac Perez Recao, who was not only an owner of Venoco Oil but was also an Israeli arms dealer, financed the coup against Chávez and used private "Venezuelan" media to sow discord.

PAID OFFICERS

Pérez Recao, scion of a wealthy family that owns a majority stake in the Venoco oil industry firm, was reported by the

Caracas newspaper El Nuevo País to have paid large sums of money to several armed forces officers who were fired after they spoke out against Chávez.

He was also a prime mover behind interim President Pedro Carmona's brief regime, shoehorning friends into his Cabinet, providing him with bodyguards and joining him in meetings April 12-13 with leaders of the military rebellion, the newspaper added.

Venezuelans in South Florida said they know Pérez Recao as a staunch Chávez critic who had openly bragged that he was plotting to remove the president from power, by force if necessary, and told friends on April 8 in Miami Beach that a coup was imminent.

Over the next 48 hours, Chavez's refusal to formally resign--as he had suggested Thursday he would do--would tear apart the coalition against him.

Carmona, the interim president, further divided the coalition with a series of controversial decrees, all drafted in private by a small circle of aides.

Interim Leader Was 'Placed in a Trap'

According to columnist Patricia Poleo of the Caracas daily El Nuevo Pais, one man played a manipulative role in the decrees: Isaac Perez Recao, 32, whose family owns a controlling stake in the petrochemical company Venoco. The same company has also employed Carmona.

In Washington, too, there was concern. A close advisor to the Bush administration said it appeared that anti-Chavez hard-liners, including Perez Recao, were telling Carmona what to do. When the military realized this, the advisor added, "they looked at it and said, 'We've lost control.'"

Inside Miraflores palace, several members of the anti-Chavez coalition felt they were being aced out of power by Carmona.

"The impression I had was of a group of people standing around this enormous cake, each one of them rubbing their hands," said Miguel Angel Castillo, an attorney for one of the anti-Chavez military officers. "They were all wondering how big of a piece they were going to get."

14. Meanwhile, back in the US, Jewish Ambassador to Venezuela Charles Shapiro and Jew Elliott Abrams were working behind the scenes pushing for funding for anti-Chávez groups with American tax dollars. Yes, Abrams was there too - actively advocating for a coup to topple Chávez.

The ambassador thus had to pretend that he was just a mediator between the government and the opposition. Behind-the-scenes, Shapiro supported financial assistance to the opposition via the CIA and NGOs. More and more Zionist supporters were engaged in anti-government activities. Shapiro used mass media to send threatening signals to Chavez, trying to persuade him that the situation in Venezuela would get even worse unless his (Shapiro's) recommendations were not heeded. Chavez, for his part, more than once said that Shapiro could become persona non grata in Venezuela. In 2004 Shapiro's term in office expired and he left the country.

More than a decade later, working as special Middle East adviser to former president George W Bush, Abrams was an enthusiastic advocate of the Iraq invasion. He was in the White House at the time of the abortive coup in 2002 against Hugo Chávez. The Observer reported that Abrams gave the green light to the putsch, another an inspector general enquiry found no “wrongdoing” by US officials.

15. At this point, International Jewry had united against Chávez, ultimately leading to his arrest. Despite Jews using every resource possible (American tax dollars and Jewish media), the people of Venezuela united around Chávez and he was back in office two days later.

16. Fast forward to January 2019, Venezuela's ties to Iran have deepened under current President Nicolás Maduro, and their newly-appointed Vice President is being characterized as an Iran-loving anti-Semite. Trump has already sanctioned him and barred him from entering the US. ✡

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

US bars entry to Venezuelan VP accused of Hezbollah, Iran ties

Tareck El Aissami played a major role in international drug trafficking, Washington says

By JTA

15 Feb 2017, 6:17 pm | 0

This file photo taken on January 31, 2017 shows Venezuelan Vice-President Tareck El Aissami gesturing during a rally with workers of PDVSA state-owned oil company in Caracas. (AFP PHOTO / Juan BARRETO)

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

“Not only implicated in drug trafficking and relations with the Colombian terrorist FARC movement, El-Aissami has inherited ex-President Hugo Chavez’s hatred of Israel and Jews and can now pursue Maduro’s anti-Semitism, further threatening Jewish lives in Venezuela,” the Simon Wiesenthal Center’s representative in Latin America, Ariel Gelblung, said in January.

He added: “Indeed, El-Aissami may transform anti-Semitism into state policy and further the transplantation of the Middle East conflict to South America.”

17. Venezuela's failed socialist system aside, Jews attribute the drop in the Venezuelan Jewish population from 25,000 to 6,000 over the last 20 years to government-sponsored anti-Semitism. Forget about oil and gold, this recent coup attempt is Jews serving a vendetta.

BY DANIEL LANSBERG-RODRÍGUEZ | AUGUST 15, 2014, 10:07 PM

Photo: Confederación de Asociaciones Israelitas de Venezuela

18. US National Security Advisor John Bolton echoed this sentiment in a foreign policy speech at Miami Dade College. It's clear the US is punishing enemies of Israel in South America. He labeled Cuba, Nicaragua, & Venezuela the "Troika of Tyranny" - all of which dislike Israel.

Remarks by National Security Advisor Ambassador John R. Bolton on the Administration's Policies in Latin America

— FOREIGN POLICY

Issued on: November 2, 2018

National Security Council

 ALL NEWS

Miami Dade College

Others who call Miami home have escaped anti-Semitism and prejudice that has unfortunately existed in the region.

Anti-Semitism has no place in the United States, or anywhere in the world. We all have a responsibility to confront this heinous hatred, whether it occurs in Pittsburgh, Caracas, or in any other city.

19. Meanwhile, Israel fears that the strong economic relationship between Iran & Venezuela mitigates the impact of US sanctions on Iran. Iran has invested billions in Venezuela & both countries share two joint banks, which helps Iran evade sanctions. The US sanctioned both banks.

"As Iran becomes increasingly isolated from the international financial system and energy markets, it is turning increasingly to convoluted schemes and shady actors to maintain its access to the global financial system," said Under Secretary for Terrorism and Financial Intelligence David S. Cohen. "As long as Iran tries to evade our sanctions, we will continue to expose their deceptive maneuvers."

Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control is also updating its list of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons (SDN List) entries today for eight vessels blocked due to the interest of National Iranian Tanker Company in the vessels. Since their original identification these vessels have been renamed and/or reflagged. Treasury is also identifying eight previously unidentified vessels as blocked property in which NITC has an interest. Including today's additions, Treasury has identified 64 vessels as blocked property in which NITC has an interest.

The Iranian Venezuelan Bi-National Bank

The Iranian Venezuelan Bi-National Bank (IVBB) is being designated pursuant to E.O. 13382 for its activities on behalf of EDBI. EDBI was designated under E.O. 13382 on October 22, 2008, for providing financial services to Iran's Ministry of Defense and Armed Forces Logistics (MODAF).

IVBB has been processing funds transfers on behalf of EDBI since at least January 2012. EDBI has used IVBB to act as a proxy to fund export activities and to transfer millions of dollars worth of funds from China's Bank of Kunlun to EDBI. Additionally, senior EDBI staff is entitled to authorize transaction instructions to Bank of Kunlun on behalf of IVBB.

Bank of Kunlun was sanctioned by the U.S. Treasury Department under Comprehensive Iran Sanctions, Accountability, and Divestment Act of 2010 (CISADA) on July 31, 2012, for providing financial services to more than six Iranian banks that were designated by the U.S. in connection with Iran's WMD programs or its support for international terrorism. Prior to the sanctions imposed against it under the CISADA, Bank of Kunlun was engaged in a significant amount of direct of business with EDBI, handling the equivalent of tens of millions of dollars worth of funds for EDBI.

IVBB was originally established as a joint venture between Iran and Venezuela, and EDBI was the Iranian party tasked with creating the joint venture with Venezuela. However, there is no evidence Venezuela retains any ties to this bank.

20. Hezbollah, the Lebanese political faction with ties to Iran, has also been increasing its presence in Venezuela, fomenting anti-Israel/West sentiment. Jewish media in the US spams that they are "a threat in our own backyard" - but this is just more Jewish "WMD" propaganda.

FOX NEWS

FINANCE · Published January 10, 2019 · Last Update January 10

Venezuela, Iran and Hezbollah - all hostile to the US - forge closer ties

By Hollie McKay | Fox News

A Hezbollah civil defense worker walks past a burned car at a car bomb in the southern suburb of Beirut, Lebanon, Thursday, Aug. 15, 2013. (AP/2013)

Mic Subscribe

Venezuela News: Hezbollah is in Venezuela, But There's No Threat to U.S. Security

By Pierce Willans March 11, 2013

f t s e l

Is Hezbollah in Venezuela? Probably. A more interesting question is: Does it matter, and if so, how much? American foreign policy hawks have been sounding the alarm on this for years, claiming Hezbollah's activities in South America, which they often refer to as "America's backyard," are a threat to national security.

21. In addition to Iran, Trump has now sanctioned Venezuela's largest oil company, PDVSA. Since both Iran and Venezuela compete in the same oil markets, squeezing one helps the other. But squeezing both will likely result in higher oil prices for everyone. All for Israel!

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

U.S.

U.S. Imposes Sanctions on Venezuela's Oil Industry

Actions aimed at crippling President Maduro's government and empowering an opposition leader

22. All of Israel's subordinates like the US, Canada, and Argentina have recognized the US-installed puppet as Venezuela's new President. But Maduro still has the support of his military, stoking fears among Jews of another failed coup.

Netanyahu says Israel recognized Guaidó as Venezuela's new president

World January 27, 22:57 UTC+3

Israeli Prime minister added that Israel joins the United States, Canada and most of Latin American and European states

Share

 812

LATINO

With military backing, Venezuela's Maduro hits back at rival Guaidó

Backed by Venezuela's military, President Nicolás Maduro went on the offensive, saying the U.S. doesn't have a 'colonial hold' on the country.

23. Now that neocon Jew Elliott Abrams has been appointed to take a another shot at a Venezuelan coup, expect to hear more sensational lies being disseminated from his camp. After all, he was one of the original propagandists that spread spurious rumors about Iraqi WMDs.

24. Last year, Trump said "no Administration has done more in its first two years than the Trump Administration."

FACT CHECK: false

No administration has done more for *Jews* in its first two years than the Trump Administration.

25. When the dust settles, Jews will write in the history books that the coup was just another case of the white man colonizing brown people. They will teach your children about it in school and make them hate their identity for it. Or maybe it's one big coincidence, goy.

🚫 End.

...